

Jürgen Oschadleus, MBA PMP®

Jürgen is an international speaker, educator and consultant on communications, leadership and project management.

With more than 16 years of education, strategic consulting and systems deployment projects in Africa, Europe and the Asia Pacific region, his communication and leadership seminars receive acclaim from participants on five continents, and his popularity as a keynote speaker is growing.

As founder and director of Act Knowledge, he assists clients to develop the communication and leadership capabilities of individuals, projects and organisations.

Jürgen also presents post-graduate project management classes at the University of Sydney and the University of New South Wales, and is the managing partner of the Asia/Pacific region of the Valense network of organisational consultants.

He is the author of Heart of Influence (2004) and Understanding Influence Equity (ebook), and writes for various international publications.

Jürgen holds a Masters degree in History, an MBA in International Project Management and Organisational Development, and a Certificate IV in Workplace Training & Assessment. He is DiSC® and SDI-accredited, an Advanced Toastmaster (Gold), an active member of the Project Management Institute's (PMI) Sydney chapter, and serves on PMI's Registered Education Provider Member Advisory Group. Jürgen holds the PMI's Project Management Professional (PMP®) credential.

Jürgen's family lives in Sydney, where he plays and coaches in his local football (soccer) league.

He can be contacted through his website at www.actknowledge.com.

